Tras las huellas de Vicente de Paúl

Guía vicenciana de Francia

(Preface by Robert P. Maloney, Superior General;

Translation by Luis Huerga, C.M.)

CEME, Salamanca, 2004, 499 pages

“This work is conceived as a guide for visitors or pilgrims to the places where Vincent de Paul and Louise de Marillac had been or where they established foundations for their Congregations. This work emerged from the growing interest that the Priests of the Mission, the Daughters of Charity, lay Vincentians, and all their collaborators have shown in the places which concern their founders. This book sets out, in the first place, to describe the places where Vincent de Paul lived, worked and passed, from his birth in Puoy, near Dax, until his death in Paris. Secondly, it records the houses of the Congregation of the Mission which he founded, although some of them he never visited. Thirdly, it includes numerous places where he went and of which we know something specific of his passage. Lastly, it incorporates some places that were of interest to him, even if he did not establish any work in them” (taken from the back cover of the book).
